

THE SHOW

NAVIGATING TOMORROW'S WORLD TODAY

LITS X is a podcast built around the people, trends, and purpose that are shaping the world we're about to lead. Each episode, we sit down with extraordinary guests — the catalysts of change across business, innovation, and society.

Made for European students who want more than theory — they want the real story behind the decisions that matter.

HOSTED BY

DAVID BERNARDO

Professor, entrepreneur, and relentless questioner. David brings together the worlds of academia and real leadership — creating conversations that cut past the surface and get to what actually drives change.
